

Ascott Analytical Wins A National Award.

After winning the Made in the Midlands Export Award and Midlands Region Export Award from the EEF (The Manufacturers Organisation) in 2017, Ascott has started 2018 by beating other Regional winners to win our first National Award for Export, from the EEF.

The Award was presented to Ascott by the Department for International Trade at the EEF National Gala, held at the Grand Connaught Room in London, on 25th January.

Winners of other National Awards included Jaguar Land Rover and the Weir Group. Ascott winning the Award is made all the more remarkable by the list of other prestigious Regional winners attending the event, including; JCB, Eaton, Sony, BASF, Rolls-Royce, Bentley, BAE Systems, MBDA, Caterpillar, GE and Airbus.

As with our previous Awards this Award is for excellence in export, the recognition that we're receiving as a British manufacturer that excels in exporting around the World, and the fact that we have a new shiny crystal trophy sat in our office in Tamworth this morning, is down to all of you working tirelessly on our behalf.
